The Labour Annual (1895–1900) and The Reformers' Year Book (1901–1908) form an interesting set of Reference books on the Labour, Land, and Socialist movements throughout the world. They were issued by me, for fourteen years, at the cost of much labour and with a heavy monetary loss.

I still have some sets reserved for those who appreciate useful records of pioneering work on advanced political lines in this country. Every volume was original and distinct. The 14 vols. together contain between 3,000 and 4,000 pages of valuable special articles by experts, several hundred portraits and biographies of men and women now making history, bibliographies and directories, and a mass of useful material, historical and statistical, that should be of enduring interest to every radical reformer.

I shall be glad to send single copies of any of these volumes post-free for 2*s.* bound, or 1*s.* paper. Sets of the complete series, 14 vols., will be sent free in the United Kingdom for 20*s.* bound, or in designed paper covers for 10*s.* 6*d.* For places outside the United Kingdom 1*s.* extra should be sent to cover additional postage.

The set would form a most interesting nucleus for a small reference or lending library which every branch of a Labour, Land, Co-operative, or Socialist organisation should undoubtedly possess. The set might also be strongly recommended for purchase by all existing Public, Lending, Reference or Societies' Libraries throughout the Kingdom.

Photo-blocks of many of the illustrations, in the present issue and the preceding 14 vols., are available for loaning to responsible parties, on terms to be obtained on application.

Communications should be addressed and remittances made payable to—
